Seniors

When the familiar school bell beckons the students of Winslow High to classes once again, we, the Seniors, shall not answer this call.

Although we have had a hard time passing some of our tests, there were the happy times that overshadowed the trying ones. Our Senior-Faculty Picnic, Senior-Sophomore Dance, Senior Hop and all the activities of graduation leave us with many fond memories.

As we don our caps and gowns, although we are very happy on this occasion, we are also a little sad to have to leave Winslow High School and all the wonderful times we have had during the years it has been our Alma Mater.

As being upperclassmen was new to us, registration found us in a dither! But we survived the day in spite of confusing noises, scrambled schedules, and the haunts of second-hand book vendors.

Soon after we got our schedules adjusted and got into the swing of things we turned our thoughts to Class offices. Under the capable direction of our class officers, the year's activities got under way. During the year, we participated in "Rat Day", Junior-Freshmen Dance, Homecoming activities, "W" Club initiation, Bulldog Rumpus, Junior Play, and best of all, our own Junior Prom.

Regretfully the year comes to a close, leaving in its wake, lots of pleasant memories.

Sophomores

September 5, registration day and there we were signing up as intelligent Sophomores. We could push the freshmen around this year; that really lifted our ego. Before the morning was over, though, we had been deflated; it seemed there were two classes above us.

Things progressed with rapid speed. Some of the girls in our class were initiated on "Rat Day" and thereafter took an active part in Pep Squad Activities. We had a few honored boys in the "W" Club too. In November, we put on our school assembly which proved to be a raving success. We were very pleased when the audience laughed at our jokes. We worried along with the other classes over our semi-final tests in January but we lived through it and our first few months of being Sophomores had a happy ending for most of us!

The second Semester went a little slower than the first one but it was none the less successful. We took part in the Bulldog Rumpus and helped the Seniors put on the Senior-Sophomore Dance. They both turned out to be wonderful events and we were glad we had helped. Although some of us wondered about it, the end of the year finally came. We were all inclined to be exceptional students, but nevertheless we burned the "midnight oil" before the final tests. The study proved to be worthwhile, and most of us left our class with regret over leaving our title of Sophomore. We have pleasant memories but we know that there are big things to come!

The class of 1954 entered W.H.S. in September with an all-time high of 140. Our numerous "privileges" as freshies included building three successful W's. In November came Homecoming with its many festivities, in which we participated by entering a float in the parade.

Our freshmen basketball team brought home the honors from the Holbrook basketball tournament in December. The male element of our class became bold and courageous at the school dances, thanks to Santa Claus, who brought them professional dancing lessons during P.E. classes.

Our freshman assembly was presented during February, and was followed by a very successful showing of the freshman basketball team at the B Squad tournaments.

Despite spring fever and other complications of the heart, we completed our eventful year as freshmen.

The Gym

The new Winslow High School Gym, completed last year, is one of the finest in the North, with a seating capacity of 1200. The available playing floor is 4,200 square feet. The facilities provided within its 8,600 square feet of useful floor space, include 588 lockers for girls' and boys' Physical Education.

Football

Head Coach Emil Nasser and his assistant, Jim Curtis, as mentors of the 1950 football squad, completed four seasons as a coaching team at Winslow High School. They have an outstanding record of twenty-six wins with five losses in the four years. Of the losses, two were conference games and two were the mighty Albuquerque Bulldogs.

This pair is to be highly congratulated for the credible showing of the 1950 squad and for their fine record after four years together. They have always used a modified T-formation offense and have shown a fine working system.

COACHES CURTIS AND NASSER

A very important part of the makeup of a football squad is the boys who assist the players with equipment, training, injury treatment, etc. The squad was lucky to have three hardworking managers to do these jobs; they were Frede Castleberry, senior; Curry Woo, junior; and Paul Bashor, sophomore.

SEASON'S SUMMARY

On August 25, 1950, a mild summer morning, 104 happy Winslow High School boys were fitted out in football uniforms. Among these were 12 returning lettermen who formed the nucleus of the 1950 squad. The team was lucky to have the best equipment of any team in the history of W.H.S. It was also the first football team to use the dressing rooms in the new gym. After helping round the team into shape, Coach-es "Doc" Wright and Jim Lovett took over the B Squad, while Jim Curtis did special work with the varsity line and Coach Nasser drilled the backs and ends and organized the team.

The next week an easy 13-0 victory over the Cathedral Panthers of Gallup, New Mexico, boosted the morale of the team. Bill Hannah, Bill Church, and John Paul led the attack.

The highly improved team then went on to maul the Round Valley Elks 38-13 in the first conference game of the season. The aggressive Bulldogs made continuous gains throughout the game, although no spectacular runs were made.

On September 29, the fighting Bulldogs downed Kingman in a conference victory. Pete Van opened that attack on the local gridiron. he ran forty yards to set up a TD., which Hannah finished on a 20-yard run. The final score, 54-0, indicated a fast moving spectacular game. Other backfield standouts were John Paul, Bill Willis, Buddy Campbell and Cooper Cooata.

Next on the schedule came Holbrook and Snowflake on October 13 and 20, respectively. These two conference opponents were delicacies to the hungry Bulldogs, who rolled past the Roadrunners 46-0, and defeated Snowflake 39-7. Campbell, Paul, Hannah, and Cooata led the attack.

A scrappy St. Johns eleven proved a tough one to beat, but Winslow squeezed by 20-13. St. Johns scored in the first quarter. Later Fred Rubi blocked a kick to set up our first touchdown. In the third quarter, Hannah flashed around end and sprinted 98-yards to pay dirt. But Garcia of St. Johns soon tied up the score. A short pass from Campbell to Paul, who then ran 90-yards to score, broke the tie and saved the day for the Bulldogs.

Annual Football Banquet Sponsored by the Elks Quarterback Club.

On Armistice Day, King Buddy Campbell and Queen Carole Clark reigned over the annual Homecoming festivities. The Bulldogs met the high scoring Flagstaff Eagles on the local gridiron as the highlight of the day. Flagstaff dropped the Bulldogs to second place in the conference by a score of 13-6. The game was hard fought, however, with neither team threatening to score in the first half. Burton, Valdevia, and Neal led the Eagle attack and showed one of the finest Eagle teams in years.

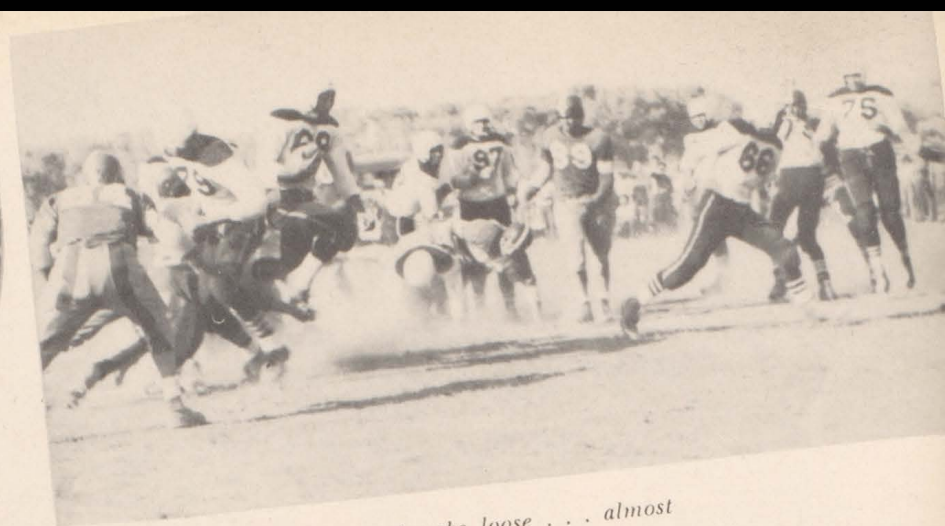

Bill Willis led Winslow's offense and scored the Bulldog's only TD, at the end of a 70-yard drive. Frank Santistevan was outstanding in line play. The fans were pleased by the hard tackling of the Bulldogs throughout the game. The Bulldog margin of 13 first downs to 5 for the Eagles showed the hard luck of the Bulldogs in their heartbreaking defeat.

The game climaxed a fine season, the team's record being six wins and two losses. This placed the Bulldogs second in the Northern Conference, towered over only by the Jerome High School Muckers. Winslow displayed its power by scoring 223 points to its opponents' 85.

Twenty-nine varsity men and three managers received letters at the annual Football Banquet sponsored by the Elk's Quarterback Club, on December 6. Frank Santistevan, Bill Church, and Buddy Campbell were chosen as captains of the 1951 squad by the members of the team.

Buddy "Gordo" Campbell was the first Winslow Bulldog in many years to be selected on the first team All-State. He won the selection while playing fullback, but received a half-back position on the honorable team. Besides this outstanding honor, Buddy was also selected as one of the outstanding players in the Northern Conference.

Co-captain Campbell played first string on three varsity Bulldog squads, one of which was State Co-champion.

John Paul, Bulldog quarterback, was selected as quarterback on the second string All-State team. He was also chosen as one of the thirty-three outstanding players in the Northern Conference.

Frank Santistevan, vicious guard on the Bulldog squad, was selected as one of the thirty-three outstanding players in the Northern conference and also co-captain of the squad.

Bill Church, center of the Bulldog line, is co-captain of the squad; he was selected as an outstanding player in the Northern conference and also received honorable mention on the All-State team.

Dudley Mack and John McNelly were elected as co-captains of the group. The coaches gave two coveted trophies to the best blocker and the best tackler on the squad. John McNelly and "Hoppy" Carrillo, respectively, received these honors.

Bob MacLean was missing when the above picture was taken because he was in the hospital treating a dislocated hip that he received in the Seligman game. Bill Mead was also absent due to a broken hand.

The Bulldogs were very fortunate this year to have a man with the basketball knowledge of Coach James P. Lovett. Mr. Lovett not only turned out a very good team this year, but he has an excellent basketball history behind him.

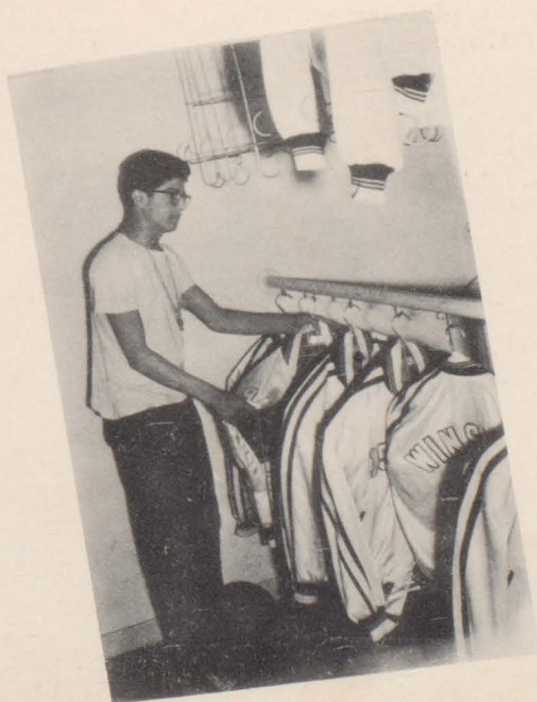

This year completed his sixth successful year of coaching at Winslow. Five of these years he has coached varsity squads, with a winning average of over 80%.

Before coming to Winslow, Mr. Lovett was coach at Duncan, Arizona, where he gained state-wide prominence with his championship teams.

Girls' Physical Education

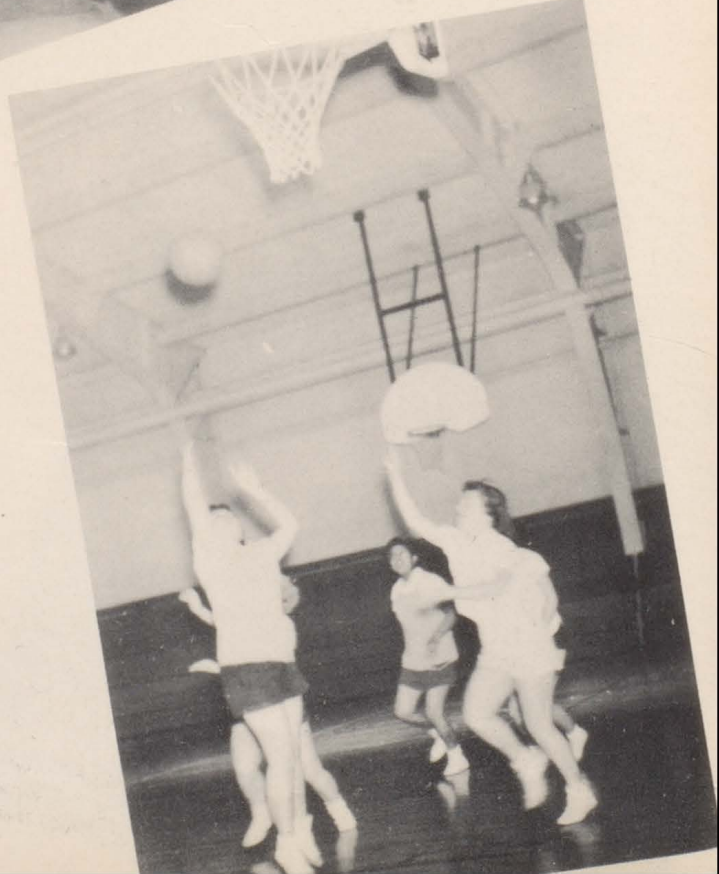

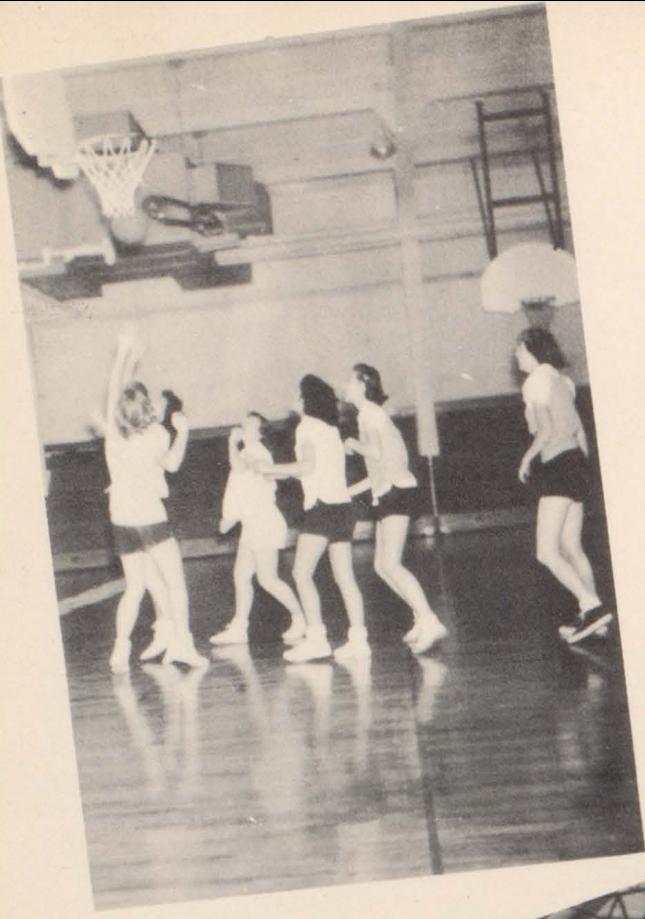

The Girls' Physical Education department, under the direction of Charlene Orr, offered a very inclusive sports program to junior and senior high school girls. Some of the sports offered were volleyball, basketball, softball, tumbling, dancing, and badminton. In March, all the classes participated in the inter-class tournament; captains were elected from each class and teams were chosen. Games were played off after school, refereed by Miss Orr.

Forty girls from the P.E. classes attended the annual Play Day held at A.S.C., Flagstaff, on April 28.

Journalists study modern trends

Upholding the best journalistic standards, while still striving to please the subscribers, has been the aim of the 1950-51 staff.

This year the Bulldog Barks has been printed on high grade glossy paper, thus making it more attractive and easier to read. Modern methods of page make-up have been introduced through the initiative of Miss Estellee Hinson, and the staff, with the helpful suggestions of the National Scholastic Press Association critic. These changes include the omission of column lines and the use of more pictures and a smaller nameplate.

Because subscriptions doubled and advertising increased one third during the fall and winter, the paper changed to a six-page publication in March.

The Student Council under the leadership of President, John Paul, has been unusually active the past year.

Under the sponsorship of the Student Council, the misunderstanding between Flagstaff High School and Winslow High School has, for the most part, been settled.

The main project that the council initiated this year was perhaps the most important that has been attempted by this body in many years. Not only was the idea for a Teen Center born this year, but the actuality of a Teen Center is now in sight. The Council hopes to have such a center in existence by the coming summer.

TEEN CENTER COMMITTEE

In addition to these two important activities, the Council sponsored and took charge of the annual Homecoming Parade and the Bulldog Rumpus.

The Student Council also sent five delegates to the State Student Council convention which was held in Glendale this year. Much of the success of the Student Council has been due to the efforts of the sponsor, Mr. W. W. Armstrong.

Honor Society

OFFICERS

President	Nancy Martin

Treasurer	Bill Willis
Council Representative	Kenneth Ricks

After having been a local society for twelve years, the Winslow chapter was granted a charter from the National Honor Society in 1946. Since that time, 67 Winslow High School students have become members of the national organization.

On October 18, 1950, the five officers of the chapter went to Flagstaff to conduct an impressive induction ceremony of that school's new members. In November, the officers of the Flagstaff chapter traveled to Winslow and, in turn, initiated our new members. This exchange has done much to further better relations between the two schools.

The group has worked very hard this year, having had numerous candy sales and a concession in the annual Bulldog Rumpus. The society contributed a gay festive spirit to the school during the week before Christmas vacation by decorating a huge, attractive Christmas tree in the main hall for the students and faculty to enjoy. Also, for the first time, the society began a scrapbook.

As an added service to the school, the group is organizing a student book exchange to regulate the prices of second-hand books for the benefit of the students.

In an endeavor to perform some service to the community, the society volunteered to conduct the March of Dimes campaign in the entire public school system.

The group also participated in the annual Northern Arizona Honor Society convention held in Prescott on March 30, 1951.

The members of this organization are chosen on the basis of scholarship, character, leadership, and service.

Band

Mr. Stephens conducts an amusing novelty number.

The W. H. S. band again this year was under the direction of Mr. Charles Stephens. Early morning practices were called to perfect drills and routines. The band marched for all the home games but two.

By invitation of the State Fair Board, the band traveled to the State Fair for three days. While there the band performed Sunday afternoon at the State Fair Ground. The band was the guest of the A. S. C. band at their Homecoming game and was privileged to watch the mass performance of the high school bands.

Leading our band were eight snappy majorettes in white corduroy costumes. For the first year, a special lettering system was set up to entitle the majorettes to letter.

The band participated in the annual spring festival concert in preparation for the NAIA Music Festival.

The W. H. S. chorus, under the direction of Mr. Charles Stephens, presented programs at the school assemblies and meetings of various local clubs. Two programs were enjoyed by the Junior-Senior P.T.A. A small group sang in the memorial services for both the Elks and the Knights Templar.

At Christmas, the chorus was well represented in the concert of Handel's Messiah. Christmas greetings were extended by the chorus to the W. H. S. student body the day preceding vacation.

In preparation for the annual NAIA Spring Festival at Flagstaff, the pre-festival concert was given.

Honoring the Seniors, the chorus sang for Baccalaureate and Commencement during Graduation week.

Thespian Society

The Thespian Society, Winslow Chapter No. 336, was first organized in Winslow in 1937. It is an honorary organization; to qualify for membership, it is necessary to have at least ten points which are awarded to students as they qualify in dramatic arts.

This year the Thespians planned to produce a three-act play scheduled for May 6. In the Spring following the Junior Play, "The Inner Willie," and the Senior Play, "The Tower Room Mystery," the students who participated were initiated.

During the second semester, the Quill and Scroll Society, an honorary society for high school journalists, was organized for the first time in Winslow High School. Its purpose is to encourage and reward individual achievement in journalism and allied fields. A charter was received from the International Quill and Scroll Society. A project for the club has been chosen, but as yet a chapter name has not been selected. All members received pins which have the gold emblem on a key.

The charter members who joined the Quill and Scroll are: Nelene Freeman, Woodine Mitchell, Jean Hansen, Janie Severson, Glenna Olmsted, Angelina Ramirez, Pat Evans, Bob Peterson, and Jerry Parsons.

This year's major project for the Spanish Club, sponsored by Mrs. Leona Fisher, was buying a set of language records for the Spanish department. The records will be used by all Spanish classes to obtain practice in hearing spoken Spanish and to improve pronunciation. Part of the money for the records was raised by sponsoring a Sock Dance in the gymnasium. Earlier in the year the Spanish Club presented its first annual assembly program, transporting a bit of old Spain to WHS with Spanish songs and dances, as well as a play with its setting in Spain.

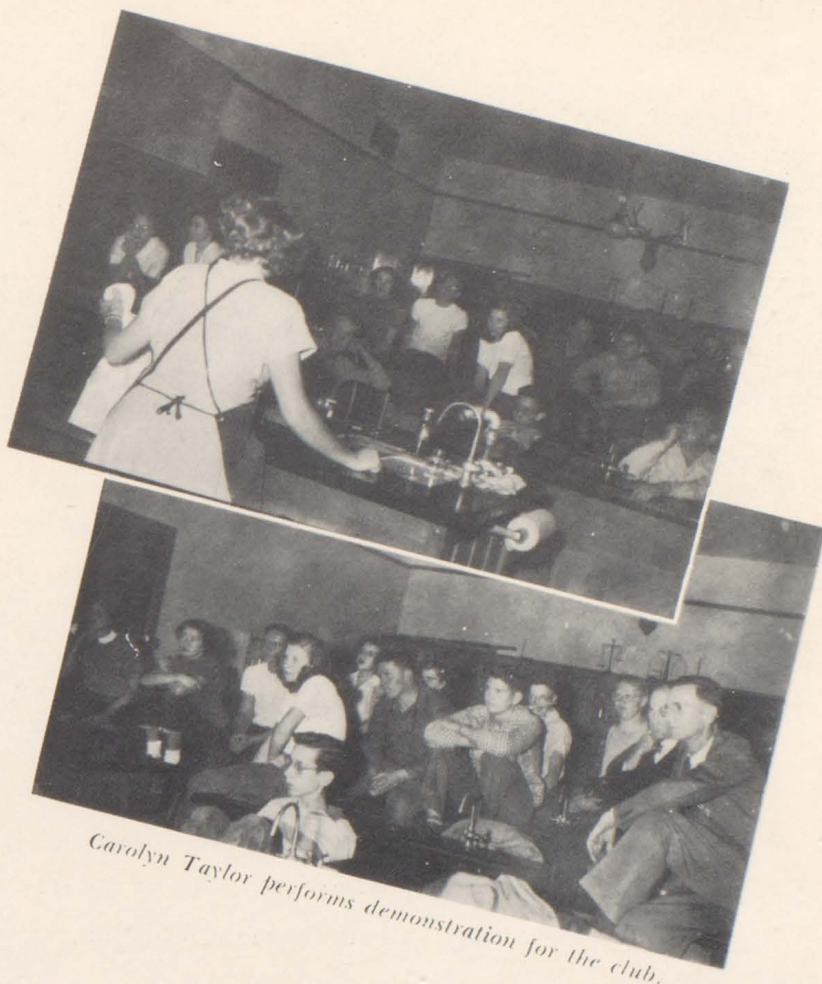

Throughout the year, members of the club wrote to pen pals in Mexico, Spain, and other Spanish-speaking countries.

The Winslow High School Science Club was organized in March, 1945, for those students interested in science. It meets twice a month, consists of 40 members, and is sponsored by Lester Taylor and Clyde Gardner. It has been very active this year, its members enjoying talks and experiments pertaining to science. Some of the programs consisted of a talk of weather reporting, a movie on building a pipe-line, and an experiment on fluorescent lighting. In the Spring, a field trip was planned.

The Photography Club, sponsored by Mr. Charles Rapson, meets every Tuesday night. The main project in this season's activities was a demonstration of how to take, develop, and print a picture, in a program for the members of the Science Club.

The work of the Photography Club deals solely with developing, printing, and enlarging pictures. Many students are now able to do their own work on their snapshots through the practical knowledge gained through this club.

The Winslow High School Rifle Club is affiliated with the national organization which is sponsored by the United States government. The club was granted a charter by the National Rifle Association on May 2, 1939. The object of the club is to teach the members the proper method of handling fire arms. An indoor range at the airport is used each Saturday morning for practice, making it possible to hold meetings in all types of weather. The membership is open to all high school students; all students interested in learning to handle firearms properly and shoot correctly are urged to join.

The club held its initiation during the first semester, initiating 24 new members. The nine members remaining from last year provided a rugged initiation for the newer athletes. In the spring, the W Club presented its annual assembly.

On September 10, there were 31 odoriferous Rats running around the halls of WHS. These new members swelled the membership to 75.

Under the sponsorship of Charlene Orr, the Pep Squad was very active during football season. The group marched at nearly every home game.

One of the highlights of the season's drills was performed at the Holbrook game, when the Pep Squad formed a huge heart and shone red lights while Eldrena Farr sang, "I Don't Want to Set the World on Fire," accompanied by the humming of all the girls.

At the Homecoming Game, the squad executed drills with maroon and white reversible cards and pom-poms. This was the first time for a performance of this kind in Winslow.

The Pep Squad Sox Dance was held in the gym February 10, and the annual Reverse Dance held on March 30 climaxed the years activities.

The leading project of the Key Club this year was to purchase a movie projector for use in all classes to make the subjects more interesting to students. Money was raised for this project by the showing of movies on Tuesday afternoons, with the admission only twenty-five cents. The movies were obtained by Vaughn Taylor, manager of the Rialto.

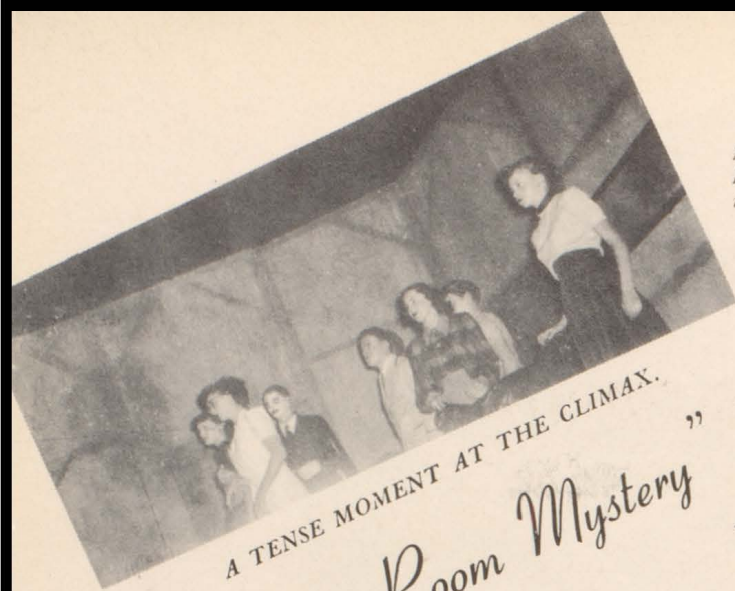

The Key Club members were kept busy with their Christmas projects, and the operation of the gum machines for the benefit of underprivileged children.

The Winslow chapter of the Key Club was chartered three years ago, and is open to boys of the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior class with at least average grades. Luncheon meetings are held weekly at the Country Club; the group is sponsored by Dr. Simmons of the Kiwanis.

"THE INNER WILLY" is a comedy dealing with the trials and tribulations of Willoughby Adams and his three old maid aunts. "Inner Willy", Willoughby's inner self, influences him to rise up against the future plans which his aunts have in store for him. He finds himself faced with the problem of no date for the graduation ball, but this is not the limit of his troubles. Later he gets not one, but three dates. The way in which Willy manages to untangle himself from these trying circumstances provides a hilarious climax for this entertaining comedy.

Entering Jr. High was entering a new world of assemblies, floats, seventh hours, gym, and lockers.

We held our own by taking first place in the second annual Jr. High Tournament held in Winslow.

One of the most enjoyable events of the year was the Pep Squad Assembly.

The Senior High again sponsored the magazine sales adding the proceeds to the grand piano fund for the auditorium.

Johnny Campbell and Carolyn Propps were selected by their classmates in the annual poll for Jr. High Meteor King and Queen.

For the first time in history the WHS annual has been lithographed instead of being printed by the letter press method. The change was made because of the demand for a more pictorial annual, which can be obtained at a minimum cost by the new method.

On the staff were twenty-four students, ranging from Junior High to Seniors. Working during study periods after school, and at night, the editors and their assistants laid out the pages and mounted the many pictures.

Another new feature of the 1951 Meteor includes the pictorial advertising section. Merchants buying ads of one fourth, one half, and full pages were entitled to pictures of their firms for publication in the yearbook.

The staff chose candidates for Meteor King and Queen; this was the first year a King was nominated; the final selection was made by popular vote of the student body.

Miss Lovice Kingsbury supervised all phases of the annual work.

The 1951 Meteor Staff wishes to express its appreciation to all who made possible this production. With sincere thanks, we acknowledge the following concerns:
